Blame It on Fidel (La faute à Fidel!) ****

2006 99 minutes

Nina Kervel-Bey stars as 9-year-old Anna, a privileged young Parisian girl whose orderly, structured life is thrown into turmoil when her parents are drawn into Paris's turbulent and radical 1970s political scene. Julie Gavras (daughter of famed French filmmaker Costa-Gavras) directs this 2007 Sundance Film Festival competition entry.

A Town Called Panic (Panique au Village) ***

2009 74 minutes

This stop-motion adventure about a trio of plastic toys provides imaginative entertainment for viewers of all ages. Adapted from a TV series, the film follows Cowboy, Indian and Horse on a trip to the center of the Earth and beyond.

Heartbreaker (L'arnacoeur) **

2010 104 minutes

Alex (Romain Duris) and his sister, Mélanie (Julie Ferrier), and her husband, Marc (François Damiens), earn money by breaking up relationships. But when Alex falls for a client's (Jacques Frantz) daughter, Juliette (Vanessa Paradis), he has to decide if he'll bust up her wedding to Jonathon (Andrew Lincoln), who's truly perfect for her. Pascal Chaumeil directs this romantic comedy filmed in Monaco.

Beloved ***

2011 2h18 min

Thirty years after her own heart was broken, Madeleine watches history repeating itself in the life of her daughter, Véra.

Monsieur Lazhar **

2011 1h35 min

An Algerian immigrant seeking asylum in Montréal replaces an elementary school teacher who committed suicide and helps the kids deal with their loss.

I Do: How to Get Married and Stay Single (Prête-moi ta main) ****

2006 88 minutes

Successful perfume executive Luis (Alain Chabat) is happily single, but his mother and sisters want him to settle down. After they arrange a string of disastrous blind dates, Luis concocts a crazy scheme that will make his family happy without his getting married. All he needs to do is hire a girl to act as his fiancée and then dump him at the altar. But when Luis meets Emmanuelle, the plan takes a turn he never anticipated in this French comedy.

Change of Plans (Le Code a Changé) ***

2009 100 minutes

A Parisian dinner party sets the stage for this comedy of manners about a group of acquaintances and their dysfunctional romantic relationships. As the guest list grows, a simple outing unravels into chaos. The attendees include married hostess Marie-Laurence, who learns that her ex-lover will be attending; Mélanie and her husband, Alain, who are on the brink of divorce; and Marie-Laurence's estranged father, who makes a surprise appearance.

Tell No One (Ne le dis à personne) ****

2006 131 minutes

Eight years ago, pediatrician Alexandre Beck (François Cluzet) was the prime suspect in his wife's murder. He's put all that behind him, but now that two dead bodies have been found near his home, he's suspected of wrongdoing once again.

OSS 117: Lost in Rio (OSS 117: Rio Ne Répond Plus) ****

2009 100 minutes

When outrageously chauvinistic French secret agent OSS 117 (Jean Dujardin) journeys to Cold War-era Rio de Janeiro to recover a top-secret microfilm, gorgeous Israeli Nazi-hunter Dolorès Koulechov (Louise Monot) joins in the quest. But as the pair zero in on their quarry, the hapless Frenchman's disdain for Koulechov's gender and nationality threaten their mission. Michel Hazanavicius directs this delightful parody of James Bond-esque films.
